

Love & Nature

Day 1.

Europe – Buenos Aires:

Departure in the international night flight. Night on board.

Day 2.

Buenos Aires – Iguazú Falls:

Arrival at Ezeiza International Airport. Our staff will be waiting there, to provide assistance in terminal change and to deliver the necessary documents for the trip. Next, you will board the Aerolineas Argentinas flight and arrive at Puerto Iguazú. Reception and private transfer service to the Hotel.

Day 3.

Iguazú Falls:

Private trip to the Argentinian side of the Iguazú Falls. The tour starts at the hotel you are staying in. After picking you up at that location, you will be taken to the entrance to the Iguazú National Park. The train called "Rainforest Train" departs from the Visitor's Center, an ecological train that goes all along the Misiones rainforest towards the Garganta del Diablo (Devil's Throat), the starting point of a walkway to one of the most striking landscapes in Argentina, next to the jump after which the Union Jump was named, a place impossible to describe in words for its beauty and energy that makes everyone feel thrilled. A place not to be missed! The trip continues in the next stop: the Iguazu Falls. Here, you have two options: you can either go on the Upper Circuit, which has a 500-meter distance, or the Lower Circuit, a number of walkways that allow appreciating such a natural wonder from another angle.

To finish this unforgettable trip, we highly recommend to hire "The Great Adventure: Iguazu Falls Baptism", which is an optional tour (€ 60): a combination of a nautical adventure riding on Zodiac boats, in which you will go on a six-kilometers ride down the Lower Iguazú River going through rapids to finish your round in the Devil's Throat Canyon, and a ride on an uncovered double-traction vehicle through the rainforest, where you will have the chance to fully appreciate the flora and, if you are lucky, the native fauna. 1-day trip. People going on this trip should take insect repellent, trainers and comfortable clothes.

Day 4.

Iguazú Falls:

Private trip to the Brazilian side of the Iguazú Falls and the Bird Park. Departure from the hotel to the Foz do Iguazú National Park. In this visitor area, you will find a single 950-meter long walkway, located on the Iguazú River Gully Falls, where you will witness a really impressive view of the Jumps. The tour reaches its climax when you get to the Devil's Throat, where the sound of the falling water profoundly shakes visitors. Entrance fee is not included, charged 15 USD per person.

Day 5.

Iguazú – Buenos Aires – Bariloche:

Private transfer service to the Airport to board Aerolineas Argentinas Flight to Bariloche through Buenos Aires. Reception and private transfer to the Hotel.

Day 6.

Bariloche:

Tour to "Circuito Chico", including ascent to the Campanario Mountain (Cerro Campanario). The trip starts at the hotel where you are staying, going along a sinuous road with picturesque landscapes. When you reach at the foot of the Cerro Campanario, you will start the ascent to the top -1050 meters high- on a chairlift, from where you will appreciate one of the most wonderful views of the region, full of lakes and lagoons that offer a wide palette of colors -ranging from emerald green to deep blue, typical flora and fauna, iced peaks and the view of San Carlos de Bariloche. The excursion continues in the Llao-Llao Peninsula, where the Chapel San Eduardo, an architectural local treasure, and the Puerto Pañuelo. From that point, after going through the Angostura Bridge (over the river of the same name), you get to the Punto Panorámico, final location of this trip. Journey back to town. Duration: half-day trip.

Day 7.

Bariloche:

Excursion to the Tronador Mountain. This trip will allow you to visit one of the most beautiful areas within the Nahuel Huapi National Park: you will see forests, lakes, beaches, mountains and waterfalls. You will also go on a sightseeing tour to the highest peak in the area, the Tronador Mountain - 3,478 meters above sea level-, natural boundary between Argentina and Chile. Apart from enjoying a breathtaking scenery, you will be in presence of uncommon natural phenomenon, such as the Ventisquero Negro, a glacier starting on the immaculate white top of the Tronador summit. At this point, the Manso River is born, a typical water stream, coming down from the highest mountain top towards the Pacific Ocean, coping with height differences along it by creating rapids and waterfalls. Duration: full-day trip.

Day 8.

Bariloche – El Calafate:

Private transfer service to the Airport to board Aerolineas Argentinas Flight to "El Calafate". Reception and private transfer to the Hotel.

Day 9.

El Calafate:

Private trip to the Perito Moreno Glacier walkways, "Nautical Safari" navigation included. We pick you up at the hotel, and after driving for 80km we will arrive at the Parque Nacional Los Glaciares, declared "World Heritage" by the UNESCO, since a vast area of continental ice field is preserved. The glaciers Moreno, Onelli, Agassi and Upsala are fed by this ice field. The Perito Moreno, being the most breathtaking glacier, flows over the Lago Argentino and adopts a wide spectrum of colors from white to turquoise. The terminus of the Perito Moreno Glacier is 5 Km wide, with an average height of 70 m above the lake level. We start our ramble at the Viewpoint, coming down through the walkways opposite to the glacier. The vastness of the landscape can be observed and the sound of the constant ruptures. An amazing spectacle that cannot be missed! We will continue the trip taking the "NAUTICAL SAFARI", navigating through the Brazo Rico (southern arm) of the Lago Argentino. The trip lasts approximately one hour and gives tourists the possibility to "live" the glacier from a closest sight. Once we are just in front of the terminus, the ship will stop for some minutes to appreciate its beauty and vastness. Duration: full-day trip.

Day 10.

El Calafate:

Private navigation (tourist class) through the Lago Argentino where we will find the Upsala glacier, thanks to the tour "Ríos de Hielo Express". We will start really early in the morning, after leaving the hotel we will drive to Puerto Banderas, where the navigation starts, once on board we will cross the Brazo Norte (northern arm) of the Lago Argentino up to the Upsala Channel, throughout the trip we will go by astonishing icebergs, ending the trip with a sight of a wonderful ice wall, where we will reach a breathtaking viewpoint of Glaciar Upsala. Then, we will navigate through the Spegazzini Channel, at which point we will find the Seco glacier, which is the tallest within the national park. We will start our return trip to the port and later on to the hotel located in the city El Calafate. Duration: half-day trip.

Day 11.

El Calafate – Ushuaia:

Private transfer service to the Airport to board on the Aerolíneas Argentinas flight to Ushuaia. Private transfer to

Day 12.

Ushuaia:

In the morning, National Park & Nature tour. We will start the adventure at your hotel where you will board a 4x4 vehicle. The first stop will be Lapataia viewpoint inside the National Park, we will go on trekking to complete the last kilometers of the Ruta Nacional No. 3. When arriving to Lapataia Bay we will come across to a perfect place for bird sighting. The trip continues along the beaver walk side to get to one of the dikes naturally built by this regional specie, where you will appreciate the impact that this sort of "structures" have on environment. Following a path that enters deeply into the forest, you get to the peatlands, made up of a great pile of moss and humus material that have a great capacity for water storage. In the southern part of the park, we can find the Lake Acigami (Lake Roca), a place not be missed, so that you can admire the scenario drawn by the Andes Mountains (Cordillera de los Andes) as background, while you enjoy having a snack. The trip finishes at the Ensenada Bay, where the most southern sub post-office is located.

During the evening, you will navigate through the Beagle Channel to the Sea lions' Island and reach the Les Eclaireirs Lighthouse (known as the Lighthouse at the end of the world). This trek starts at the touristic local quay, point where the ship sets sail to go through the vast Ushuaia Bay until arriving at the Beagle Channel. It is in this point that you can navigate around the Bird Island -where you can appreciate birdlife in this region by watching species such as skuas, albatrosses, steamer duck, cauquenes, Kelp Gulls and grey gulls- and the Sea Lion's island, where you can find the southern sea lions and southern fur seals. When you reach Les Eclaireirs Lighthouse (The illuminators, in French), you will see colonies of Imperial Cormorants and Rock Cormorants. Along the trip, the guide will not only mention the main features of each of the species spotted, but he will also explain how important that maritime passage was for the development of the city. In the trip back to the city, the view of the mountain range surrounding Ushuaia is superb, along with the splendid nature surrounding it. In is a trip of great historical significance and landscape design. Duration: half-day trip.

Day 13.

Ushuaia:

Day off. You can optionally go on the excursion "Lakes Off Road 4x4", a trip in Land Rove Defenders (4x4) with lunch included (USD 143) . This excursion aims at going into the inner part of the island in a completely unusual way: with adventure! During the morning, you will be fetched at the hotel to start the trip along a traditional route, in which you will appreciate changes in vegetation in the extent we move to a high altitude, until you reach the Garibaldi Pass, the most southern pass in the world, from where you can observe the Lakes Fagnano and Escondido. From there on, the vehicle starts to go through off-road paths, where there are unique places full of beauty. When you reach the Lake Escondido shore, if you wish, you can go canoeing (subject to weather condition). Next, you will go through forests and beaver walksides until you reach the Lake Fagnano shore. In this point, you will enjoy watching an exceptional landscape while, immersed in the silence in the forest, listen to the tapping of the laborious woodpeckers. It is here where we have a shelter, and you will taste a typical Argentinian "asado" with red wine, fundamental drink in every meal. Duration: full-day trip.
